APPROACH OF ANNUAL FALL HOUSE PARTY THROWS HILL INTO FESTIVE ATMOSPHERE

Honorary Societies To Hold Dances at Sig and Theta Delt Houses

GABOON WILL APPEAR

Lambda Xi Sigma Only House Not To Participate In Revelry

With the Fall House Party but two days away, the Hill is in the midst of the feverish activity that marks the last minute preparations for the event. The program will be much the same as in former years.

All the participating houses will hold open dances Friday night, to which the upperclassmen and the members of the faculty are invited. On Saturday afternoon the football team will meet one of its most difficult opponents in Rochester University, and the cross-country team will engage St. Stephens in its first meet of the year.

"The Royal Gaboon" will make its first appearance during the game and at the tea dances of the D. T. and Was Los societies which will follow. The D. T. dance will be held at the Theta Delta Chi house an dthe junior society will entertain at the Sigma Phi Place. The usual closed dances Saturday night will bring the program to a close.

The Lambda Xi Sigma fraternity is the only house which will not participate in the events of the week-end. This group is soon to become a member of a national organization and is busy preparing for the installation.

New York State is supplying the greatest number of girls, and New Jersey is the runner-up as a source of supply. The longest long-distance calls were to girls in Richmond, Virginia; Atlanta, Georgia; St. Augustine, Florida; Minneapolis, Minnesota; and Jump River, Wisconsin.

ROOT FELLOW SUBMITS REPORT

Douglas, '29 Makes Brilliant Record During Year at Harvard

Edwin Church Douglas, '29, the winner of the Root Fellowship in Science, has just submitted to the faculty a report of his studies at Harvard. His brilliant record last year, when he was taking six graduate courses, includes four A's and two B's.

Mr. Douglas has been appointed assistant instructor of swimming at Harvard, the compensation for which will enable him to continue his graduate studies for another year. While at Hamilton he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and a member of the Lambda Xi Sigma fraternity.

The Root Fellowship in Science, established in 1894 by the Hon. Elihu Root, '64, provides one year of graduate study at any university to a member of the senior class who has stood high in scholarship and has shown marked ability and special aptitude for research in one or more of the departments of science. The Root Fellow is appointed each year by vote of the faculty.

HUGHES NEW MANAGER OF COLLEGE CHOIR

Will Assist Johnson in Arranging Organization's Annual Trips

James R. Hughes, '31, has been appointed by Wallace B. Johnson, '15, as student manager of the choir for the ensuing year. In this capacity, he will assist Mr. Johnson in making arrangements when the choir makes its season trips.

In addition to his stellar work as a defense man on the hockey squad last season, Hughes is also a letter man in soccer.

Librarian Finds Gold In Them Thar Books

Bookmarks are frequently left in library books when they are returned but never before has a reader shown his appreciation by leaving such an expensive bookmark as money.

Mr. Joseph D. Ibbotson, College Librarian, was both surprised and pleased recently when he pulled a book out of the stack and saw eleven dollars flutter to the floor. Mystery surrounds the former owner of the bookmark and it is now in the hands of the Bursar who will credit it toward the Library Book Fund. Since the book is an essay on savage philosophy it is quite possible that the money was placed there by supernatural means.

NEW BUILDINGS ARE COMPLETED

Chemistry Laboratory and Workshop Latest Additions to College

The undergraduates returned to the Hill this Fall to find an apparently new Chemistry Building practically completed after 10 months' work. The structure is actually a renovation of the old laboratory. The entire interior is new as well as the wings and roof.

By remodelling the building the amount of available floor space was doubled. All of the equipment is new, much of it having been constructed especially for this building. Classes are being held in the Science Building while finishing touches are being applied to the structure. Work was begun in late November and continued through the Winter and Spring with classes going on as usual in the old building. An elaborate system of sheds enabled the workmen to continue through the whole winter.

Throughout the entire work those in charge were on constant lookout for quicksand since contractors have formerly been troubled by it. However, the only change of plans that had to be made was caused when quicksand made it impossible to put the boiler room under one wing. The room was finally located directly in the rear of the structure.

The Bedford Construction Company, Incorporated, has the contract, and the architects are Bagg & Newkirk.

New roads were constructed in the rear of the Administration Building. The top dressing of these roads is called Cold Provia, which is something comparatively new in this country.

A son was born to Professor and Mrs. Walter N. Hess during the summer at Oberlin, Ohio. The child has been named Carroll.

PRESS BOARD TO ENLARGE FIELD

Reorganized Staff to Furnish 138 Newspapers with News of College

With the opening of the college year the reorganized Press Board has gotten well under way according to Professor F. Winfield Smith, Faculty Chairman.

Since returning to the Hill, Gellman and Hosmer, undergraduate members of the board, have been busy writing news stories on the various athletic events on the Hill, as well as personals on the members of the football, soccer, and cross-country squads, on all the new men, new faculty members, and on those students who received high honor, honor, or credit averages during the past year. These personals are sent to home-town newspapers.

In the future Professor Smith hopes to send out pictures of the more prominent undergraduates. Severin Bourne, '31, photographer of the Press Board, will take pictures of the Hamilton luminaries which will be sent out to acquaint the outside world with the secrets of Hamilton College.

The southeast room on the second floor of Silliman Hall has been assigned to members of the board. This room has been completely equipped for the use of the Board members.

The Press Board will send news articles to 138 papers, including some in other states in New England. To the papers outside the state will be sent, mainly, news concerning their local teams playing Hamilton and also concerning undergraduates from their respective localities.

The money received from the papers to which news is sent will be divided among the undergraduate members of the Board. No one has yet been chosen to replace Edward Gross, '32, who resigned from the Board, but, according to the chairman, a member may be chosen soon from either the freshman or the junior class if the work becomes too heavy for the present members.

Cards were recently distributed in Chapel, for the purpose of securing information as to the residence and local newspapers of each undergraduate.

Number of Registered Cars Shows Decrease Over Past Years

Are cars at Hamilton doomed? This is the question that comes to every Hamiltonian's mind when he learns that the number of cars on the Hill this year continues its steady downward trend with a decrease of 14% over the number registered with the Bursar's office last year.

Twenty-nine seniors, however, can claim the distinction of possessing a car of some description or other. Once again Ford has an overwhelming lead over his rival competitors, with Chevrolet a poor second.

In spite of this marked decrease, the Trustees have not been lax in dealing with the traffic problem, having issued the following edict:

Cars may be parked only in the following places:

(1) In front of Carnegie.

(2) Behind Truax Hall of Philosophy.

(3) Close behind the Root Hall of Science.

(4) Behind the Library—among the trees west of the north and south roadway.

(5) By the fraternity houses on the campus, as provided by the fraternities concerned.

Automobiles will not be permitted to be left at all on any part of the campus roadways or anywhere in the neighborhood of South College or Silliman Hall.

Visitors who do not know the rules will park cars on the roadways. If all college cars obey the rules no serious difficulty will result from such parking of cars by strangers.

These rules are subject to modification during House Parties, but no car is to be driven or left on the campus lawns at any time.

NOTED ATTORNEY SPEAKS ON HILL

N. R. Lee, Member of Chicago Crime Commission, Entertains Poly Sci

"The problem of fighting crime linked up with politics is neither original to Chicago, nor is Chicago the only great example of dirty politics in the United States." So said Noble R. Lee in a speech before the members of the Political Science Club at their initial meeting, held at the Delta Kappa Epsilon house on Friday evening. Jefferson Meagher, president of the club, acted as chairman, and introduced Mr. Lee, a Chicago attorney and member of the Chicago Crime Commission.

Mr. Lee began by mentioning the several rackets which are practiced to great extent in Chicago. Commercial prostitution was the first that he mentioned, pointing out that its income exceeds $70,000,000 a year. He next showed that gambling, organized as it is in Chicago, produced a fabulous revenue. The bootleg racket is also in first rank of illegitimate business operations in Chicago.

"The chief trouble with the politics is that college men have no backbone and thus the crooked men of lower mentality step in and ruin the cities of the country," said he in conclusion, making an appeal to the students who understand government to do their part in building up the nation and overthrowing corruption.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger H. Briggs of Utica announce the birth of a daughter, Patricia Hampel Briggs, on August 24, 1930. Mr. Briggs was a member of the class of 1925.

HILL ALUMNUS HURT IN CRASH

George V. Edwards, '91, Injured in Airplane Accident At Weiler, Switzerland

George V. Edwards, '91, father of George V. Edwards, Jr., '31, and of Jeremiah Edwards, '30, was seriously hurt in an airplane crash near Weiler, a small town on the border line of Switzerland and Bavaria, near the Lake of Constance, on August 14. Edwards was flying with another passenger, a Swiss military officer, and the pilot, a retired captain of the Austrian army, in a small Junker plane owned by the Austrian Air Service of Vienna and operated on the Vienna - Innsbruck - Constance - Zuruch line.

A heavy and foggy rain made flying very difficult and the pilot was flying very low, evidently seeking a landing place when the plane crashed into a small mountain located very near Weiler. The pilot was killed almost outright and both passengers were seriously injured. Early reports stated that Mr. Edwards suffered a broken arm, a fractured ankle of one foot and a serious injury to the knee joint of the other foot. Besides being badly cut about the head, he also suffered an internal hemorrhage in the left eye, the sight of which was seriously impaired at the time. The Swiss officer, on his way to Neufohatel, received a compound fracture of his left forearm and also of his left leg, and a bad injury to his chest. Fortunately, the accident happened near a hospital and medical aid was forthcoming almost immediately. The condition of both passengers was declared favorable for recovery.

George Edwards, Jr., left America for Europe on August 23, to bring his father back with him, but the extent of Mr. Edwards' injuries has delayed the journey to New York for some time. In a wire sent to the Psi Upsilon fraternity Wednesday, George Edwards, Jr., stated that he would not return to Hamilton this semester and that he expected to spend some time with Robert Ashmead, '32, who is spending the year in Paris with the Delaware University Extension Group.

SUPERIOR HAMILTON TEAM EASILY SUBDUES CLARKSON GRIDDERS BY 12-0 SCORE

Green and Gold Bows Before Strong Buff and Blue Attack

RODGER - RIENZO STARS

Continentals Score in First And Third Periods of Contest

The Hamilton College football team defeated the Clarkson College of Technology eleven by a 12-0 score at Potsdam Saturday afternoon and in so doing was not even forced to show its best brand of football, which was lacking throughout the game. Hamilton scored in the second and third quarters on plays so cleanly executed that the Buff and Blue superiority was extremely evident.

The first period was scoreless with the ball in Hamilton's position in mid-field when it ended. The teams see-sawed back and forth for the better part of the second quarter until the Buff and Blue finally cornered Clarkson on her own 30-yard line. Rodger, the defensive star of the game, then blocked a Clarkson punt and covered the ball on the 25-yard line. A forward pass, Rienzo to Fay, completely baffled the Clarkson crew and, as Fisher took the last defender entirely out of the play, Fay galloped around right end for the first score. The try for point was wide.

Score Second Touchdown

Hamilton kicked to open the second half, George Kingsley doing the booting. Clarkson tried two line plunges and an off tackle slant but was far from a first down and Boyle punted. The punt was short and Rienzo took it on the Clarkson 37-yard line. Then came Hamilton's march toward the final score.

Rienzo knifed off tackle for a first down, following which Kingsley twisted his way for 14 yards and a second first down. The Hamilton line split Clarkson's forward wall wide open on the next play and Rienzo steamed through the guard and center hole for 15

Band To Make First Appearance Saturday

Arrayed in natty black sweaters and white flannels, the new Hamilton College Band will make its first public appearance Saturday afternoon when it plays at the Rochester game. The young musical organization which has been developed and directed by Richard Redmond, '33, has been rehearsing since the opening of college and plans to open its season before the gay House Party guests.

Intensive practice in drilling promises well-ordered marching when the band marches onto the field between the halves and forms the "H" to the strains of "Fair Hamilton."

ROCHESTER NEXT ON GRID CARD

Game Featuring House Party Week-end To Be Test For Hill Team

Faced with as hard a test as any on the schedule, the Buff and Blue football team will line up against Rochester University on the Hill Saturday. The visitors come to Hamilton seeking revenge for last year's 6-0 setback at the hands of the Continentals.

The Yellow-jackets were favored to win last season, and Hamilton's victory was a surprise to public and press alike. The visitors, who defeated Oberlin by two touchdowns Saturday, are stronger than ever this year, and outweigh the light Buff and Blue line eight pounds to the man.

Captain McGuire, who played at center on last year's squad, has been shifted to the backfield, and is a consistent ground gainer through the line. He has been ably assisted by Smith, another outstanding performer in the backfield, who has been handling the punting and end running assignments.

The work of the Buff and Blue at Potsdam showed a decided strengthening of the center of the line, the weak spot of the forward wall. At no time during the game Saturday was Clarkson able to penetrate beyond the 40-yard marker.

The running attack did not function as smoothly as in the opening game of the season, and the squad will be drilled in several new plays for the Rochester tilt. The overhead game worked as well as could be expected, and the team completed three out of six passes, one for a touchdown.

Although Morris is at present the only man on the injured list, Fay and Rienzo will not be in the best of shape for the coming encounter.

SCIENCE EXPERT SPEAKS TO CLUB

Johns Hopkins Faculty Member Emphasizes Research To Biology Group

A well attended meeting at the home of Dr. Walter N. Hess Tuesday, September 31, marked the first in a series of meetings of the Biology Club to be held throughout the year. Besides the principal speaker, Professor Maynard Metcalf of Johns Hopkins, two of the student members contributed to the program with short speeches on their work during the Summer.

The first to speak was Albert Redmond, '31, who spent the Summer at Woods Hole studying Invertebrate Zoology. He described the school and the courses and went into some detail concerning the course itself with regard to students, professors and the work covered by the pupils. Following this, C. B. Smith, '32, who was at Woods Hole as an employe of the institution, gave an outline of the work he had done. This work consisted in driving a boat to collect specimens for laboratory work.

The principle speaker of the evening was Dr. Hess' uncle, Dr. Metcalf. He spoke on the methods of graduate instruction throughout the country, speaking mainly on the medical schools. He claimed that the better schools everywhere now used the method of research on the part of the student, rather than having information drilled into the pupils by the teacher. Dr. Metcalf rejected all ideas of honors saying that a college where marks, honors or even elections to Phi Beta Kappa are the goal, does not represent the true college. He summarized the instruction of many medical schools during the lecture, and following the talk answered questions concerning the merits of various institutions throughout the country.

Dr. Hess announced that the next meeting of the club would be held at the Utica State Hospital where the members would have an opportunity to witness an autopsy.

Survey of Dormitory Rooming Situation Reveals Confusion Caused By Transfers

Following a transfer of over 150 men, Edward M. Coughlin, Bursar, announced last week that the rooming situation in the dormitories was rapidly assuming its proportionate level.

The difficulties in the past have been due largely to the inability of the fraternities to determine at the proper time just the proportion of men that will be obliged to room elsewhere than in the fraternity houses. The present rooming regulations which were adopted by the Board of Trustees three years ago provide very satisfactorily for all conditions which such a plan would have to meet if they were obeyed.

The most difficult part of the entire proceedings is found in the mix-up that occurs when freshmen, rooming together at the beginning of college are pledged to different fraternities. Then, when the decision of the majority carries no weight, chance is resorted to to settle the question. According to Mr. Coughlin, however, this does not always mean that the question is settled. In some cases, he has been obliged to transfer as many as eight and nine men through one suite of rooms before the final occupants are decided upon.

At the present moment, conditions are no better or worse than they were last year at this time. If there is any difference at all it would lie in the decreased number of transfers. The whole problem never reaches an equilibrium, however, until approximately three weeks have passed.

Figures given out by the Bursar estimate the number of men living in the dormitories as approximately 206. Two hundred and twenty-four are living in the fraternity houses and 26 are rooming outside.

The total capacity of the dormitories averages around 200. The figures quoted above are not to be considered as final because of overcrowding in some of the dormitories and the vacancies in another.

There were no extensive improvements carried out during the summer. Several of the rooms received new supplies in the way of furniture which went to replace the depreciation figured upon at the close of each college year. There was some repapering and painting done in North and improvements made on the shower rooms in South College.

Interesting Article By Johnson Describes Early Days in History of Hamilton College

Wallace B. Johnson, Secretary of Admissions of Hamilton College, describes the early history of the college in an article written for the August issue of "Town Topics." The article sums up briefly many of the hardships with which those connected with the college during the early years of its existence were forced to contend.

"Six thousand eight hundred and forty-two men, and one woman, have had their names inscribed on the roster of the instiution since its founding one hundred and nineteen years ago. Samuel Kirkland, founder of the academy which stood on the site of Hamilton College for twenty-one years before the founding of the college, stipulated a sum of two hundred and fifty dollars as the cost of erecting a building for the academy. The buildings and grounds of Hamilton College today are valued at two million thirteen thousand three hundred and thirty-two dollars.

"Kirkland proposed to engage two schoolmasters at a salary of one hundred dollars per year each, and three other men, bringing the total cost of the school up to four hundred and forty dollars. The expenses of running Hamilton College in the year ending in June, 1930, were three hundred and ninety thousand seven hundred and fifty-one dollars.

"In 1914 the faculty consisted of five men, and the student body numbered sixty-six. Today there are forty-five men on the faculty and a student body of nearly four hundred and fifty.

One building housed the original academy, while 55 buildings, including faculty and fraternity houses, make up the present college group.

"Nearly a dozen private institutions of learning have flourished in Clinton since 1812; but of these only Hamilton College now continues. At one time there was a strong move to have the college moved to Utica because it was thought that the college could never flourish in such an isolated place as it occupied.

Alumni of Hamilton College are now to be found in 45 states of the Union and in 26 foreign countries. Certain families have been represented at the college for over

THE RISE OF A NEW TRADITION

New organizations and institutions are constantly springing into being to take the place of those that have been outgrown and discarded. This is especially true in a college community, with its characteristic restlessness and desire for change. Many new institutions die in the embryo state, some live through adolescence, a few reach maturity, and only one or two endure permanently. It is the old principle of the survival of the fittest; the rest must perish before the advance of progress.

Those who were on the campus last Friday when the football team drove off to Potsdam witnessed the first official appearance of Hamilton's newest organization—the College Band. Those who were not fortunate enough to be present on Friday will see and hear the Band this Saturday at the House Party game with Rochester.

Hamilton has long felt the need for a band. We have marched for year after year to the accompaniment of a bass drum, with a doubtful obligatto from some stray trombone, while celebrating the eve of a Union game. We have dropped our quarters and dimes in the hat until we are weary, in hopes of procuring some good band music at the Big Game. We have stood on our feet and solemnly sung our "Carissima" off-key in strange harmonic dissonances. We have paraded through the streets of Utica without the stimulus of a single note of martial music. But these are things of the past, pushed aside at the dawn of a new institution, and fated to remain aside if that institution survives.

The College Band has passed safely through the embryo state; it is flourishing in its adolescence; there is a need for it to grow into maturity. Why, then, should not the Band become a permanent fixture, a Hamilton tradition? B. J. S., '32.

HILL MUSIC SOCIETY TO OPEN SEASON

Frank Chapman, Baritone, To Give Concert Tonight At Alpha Delta Phi Hall

ITURBI APPEARS AGAIN

Society Plans Series of Eight Concerts During Coming Year

This evening will mark the opening of the fourth season of the Musical Art Society concerts when Frank Chapman, baritone, will give a recital in the Alpha Delta Phi Hall at 8:15 p. m. Jose Iturbi, the famous Spanish pianist who took the Hill by storm last year, has been engaged by the Society for October 29, and the Barrere ensemble will give a concert later in the season.

Frank Chapman, who has sung in opera in Italy, and in this country with the American Opera Company, has a fine, ringing baritone voice, with excellent top notes. His first great success occurred in the Metropolitan Opera House in New York when he took part in the Princeton Triangle Show. Afterwards he spent four years studying in Italy and later in this country.

To Give Eight Concerts

This will be the first time a baritone has appeared here for two years. Concerts by these more famous artists have been made possible through the generosity of friends of the Society. Just as last year, there will be eight concerts sponsored by the Musical Art Society this year.

Professor Berrian R. Shute is president of the Musical Art Society; Dr. A. P. Saunders is secretary ,and Professor Paul A. Fancher, treasurer. Robert W. Cruser, '31; John H. Jones, '31; N. Morey Eames, '32, and A. Kirk White, '32, are student members of the Executive Council.

Membership Increases

While complete membership returns have not yet been received, returns to date seems to indicate that membership this year will almost double that of last year. As soon as the financial condition of the Society can be determined, the schedule of concerts to be given this year will be completed.

Mr. Chapman's program follows:

Editor, "Hamilton Life"
Hamilton College.

Dear Mister Editor:

I am writing to you in hopes that this sad tale of woe may be printed in your paper in order that the students of Hamilton College may understand how a Utica girl looks at the situation.

Since Hamilton is so near to Utica it is quite natural that Hamilton men should have the custom of taking Utica girls on "dates." This practice is continued throughout the school year every Saturday night excepting two week-ends on which fall the annual House Parties. Now that is just the trouble. Utica girls are apparently alright to be used in an odd moment; to have a little fun with one one night a week; or even invitations to Hamilton games. But when it comes to House Party we are just left out. Girls are imported from every part of the state except Utica itself, and in all cases we have never seen a girl come into Utica on her way to the House Parties that is any better looking than the average Utican.

Therefore, on behalf of the girls of Utica I present this appeal and you may take it for whatever it is worth.

Yours truly,
MISS UTICA.

COLLEGE SPIRIT
A Play in One Act

Place—A Fraternity House.

Characters—A Freshman—and—an upper classman.

Time—Late afternoon on the day of the Clarkson game. Phone rings as the curtain rises—freshman hurries to answer it.

Upperclassman Calling: "I hear the Chapel bell ringing—can you tell me about the game?"

Freshman (enthusiastically) — "Sure! St. Louis won, 5 to 0. So long.

(Scene changes) Upperclassman falls back in his chair—the phone crashes to the floor as the curtain falls. DOR SIL.

It seems they are still busy piping the new Chemistry Building. That should make Chemistry a real pipe course.

We learn that Andy has deserted the famous team of Amos 'n' Andy. Henceforth it will be Amos 'N.' Wilder. The sicheeation at Hamilton is something fierce.

From Sunday's extended organ prelude to Chapel we gather the impression that Hicks has been taking lessons from Mr. Gordon during the Summer. Or perhaps the "stops" aren't working.

HILL TEAM BOWS TO CLARK MILLS

Buff and Blue Booters Lose To Team of More Experienced Players

Bowing to a more experienced foe ,the Continental soccer team went down to a not inglorious defeat before the Clark Mills team on Saturday afternoon by a score of 4 to 2. This is the best showing that the Buff and Blue has made against the Millers in some years and should presage a successful season.

Probably no more finished playing will be seen here this year than that displayed by the visitors, who fully justified the contention that they are brought up on the game. Many of them were men of 30 or more, and it was their cunning learned over a long period of experience that proved the downfall of the Hamilton team.

During the first half, the two teams appeared rather evenly matched. A goal by Gross was followed with one by Duffy, to knot the score which remained tied to the end of the half. In the second half, the visitors scored three goals before Hamilton finally scored on a boot by Mosher.

The Continentals showed good teamwork; the kicking of Boeve and the all-round playing of Captain Normile and Fischer being especially outstanding. Duffy starred for the winners.

The summary:

Clark Mills		Hamilton
	Goal
John Duffy		Richards
	Right Fullback
S. Davis		Boeve

LIBRARY HOURS ARE LENGTHENED

New Schedule for Building Adopted for Convenience of Students

This year a new schedule of hours for the Library will permit the undergraduates more time to use its facilities in study and research.

On week days the Library will remain open through the day until 11 o'clock in the evening.

This policy was adopted by the faculty to accommodate those of the undergraduate body who found the old system of closing at 10 o'clock too much of a curtailment. Mr. Joseph D. Ibbotson, librarian, will endeavor to be at the Library on Sunday morning between the hours of 11:30-12:30 for the convenience of those who might like to use it at that time. The revised list of hours is as follows:

Week days, 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. to 11 p. m.

Sundays: 11:30 a. m. to 12:30 and 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. to 11::00 p. m.

Several of the faculty and the office staff of the Administration Building attended. Mr. Wallace B. Johnson introduced the freshmen. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Edward F. Hauch, Mrs. Milledge L. Bonham, Jr. ,and Mrs. Walter N. Hess poured.

PLAN INITIAL GABOON ISSUE

House Party Number To Feature Reviews of Current New York Shows

The first issue of the "Royal Gaboon" is being rounded into shape as the time for publication approaches. According to Editor James W. Moore, '31, the "Gaboon" will be on sale at the football game and at the various houses at House Party time.

The House Party number of the "Gaboon" will be set off under a cover by Charles Symonds, '31, managing editor and former art editor of the board. It portrays two college youths doing the "song and dance" and is done in yellow, blue, black and white.

An interesting feature in the coming issue will be a section devoted to the reviewing of three plays now running in New York: "Second Little Show," "Fine and Dandy," and "Garrick Gaieties."

NEW MEN NAMED TO COLLEGE CHOIR

Seventeen Chosen for Positions in Musical Organization

The College Choir, under the direction of Professor Paul A. Fancher, has completed its annual reorganization period which consists, in the addition of new members to the choir, as well as the elimination of some of the former ones.

Only 17 new members, out of 60 contestants, were appointed to the choir. Members from the three upper classes tried out for positions in the organization September 19, while freshmen competed on September 22 and 23.

Owing to the fact that some students in college this Fall may not be in regular standing, the following list of appointments to the Hamilton College Choir for 1930-1931 stands subject to change: First bass, Alfred S. Bourne, Jr., Jay Frisbee, Benjamin Stone, Winthrop Crowell, Rodney Gibson*, Dengler*, Roehrick*, Lewis*, Richard Jenks, Robert Lamont, Clarence Fraser, Kenneth Bremer, William Price*.

Second tenor, John Haydn Jones, Lewis Marvin, Frank Will, Robert Phelps, Douglas Fletcher, Gordon Greeley, William Hands, James Heyl, Thomas Robertson, Ralph Vosburgh, William Corwin, G. Smith*, Woodworth*, Folley*, Dayton* and VanDeventer*.

The names of the new members are indicated by the asterisk.

LEWIS REVIVES DEBATE COUNCIL

Faculty Advisory Board Aids Speakers in Selection of Question

To decide upon the proposition of the International debate with the Scottish Universities Debating Team which will be held on October 23, the Hamilton Debate Council was revived. The five questions submitted by the visiting team were discussed at a meeting of the Council held last Monday evening at Emerson Hall.

This Council was very active up until three or four years ago, when it lapsed into disuse. The new reorganization was brought about by Professor Calvin L. Lewis, and includes Professors Marsh, Graves, Laves and Ridgeway. Jefferson Meagher and Willis Rayton were also present at the Council meeting.

The purpose of the Council is to serve in an advisory capacity, to aid in the formulation of questions, and to discuss the various aspects of questions with the members of the debating team.

KING RETAINS BROOME COUNTY GOLF TITLES

Wins Vestal Hills Championship At Binghamton For Second Time

H. Jackson King, '27, recently won the golf championship of the Vestal Hills Country Club at Binghamton for the second time. He won the crown in 1928 but was unable to defend his crown in 1929 because of an operation.

King recovered from this operation, however, in time to win the Broome County championship that year. He retained this title in match play on Labor Day.

Political Leader

WILLIAM ROSS LEE, '00

William Ross Lee, '00, former District Attorney of Utica, was elected chairman of the executive committee of the Republican County Committee at a meeting of the Republican Club Tuesday. Mr. Lee spoke in the series of three lectures held under the auspices of the Political Science Club last April.

HARRIERS FACE TEST SATURDAY

Three Lettermen To Start; New Men To Get Trial Against St. Stephens

With the Buff and Blue cross-country team facing its inaugural test of the season Saturday, when it opposes the powerful St. Stephens team, it is as yet rather difficult to predict the probable strength of the team for the coming season. While St. Stephens is but a comparatively small institution, it is noted for its cross-country teams, and it is probable that Hamilton will face no better team throughout the entire season.

The failure of Rumble to compete this year leaves Campbell and Broughton as the only two lettermen in addition to Captain Pritchard who will be available for service this year. In Captain Pritchard the team possesses a star who not only won the Conference title last year, but was not defeated throughout the season.

In addition to the three lettermen, Gross and Tuthill, both of whom saw considerable service as members of last year's squad, will be among the starters on Saturday. Carl Poppe, the star of last year's freshman team, and winner of the inter-class meet last Fall, is also counted on to strengthen the team.

First of Series to be Made of Campus Now Available to Students

The beauty of the Hamilton College campus has been photographed so often from all angles that it is not surprising that it should be photographed from the air. Such an event took place during the vacation when a birds-eye view of the athletic grounds was taken by a Utica firm specializing in aerial photography.

The picture, copies of which are on sale in the College Store, is medium sized, but covers all of the athletic fields excepting part of the golf course. At the upper end are seen the Sage building and part of the Biology-Geology Buildings. The new Chemistry Building also appears in the picture. Beyond these are seen the tennis courts and the baseball diamond with parts of the third and eighth holes showing. On the other side is the football field and the bleachers.

This is only the first of many pictures which have been planned and which will include views of the other two quadrangles and part of the Root glen. All of the pictures will be found in the store at a future date.

NEW FEATURES IN HILL LIBRARY

Many Interesting Additions Made During Summer Months

A memorial to James Harvey Campbell, '30, donated by the class of 1930, is one of the featured additions to the Library during the Summer.

Several books have been purchased from the gift, mostly of good recent fiction. Most of these books will be found in the new seven-day shelf which has been started this Summer. The seven-day shelf is located in the southeast corner of the first floor stacks and it is hoped in time to be increased to occupy a whole section. It will be devoted, for the most part, to the best recent fiction.

Several gifts of books have been made to the Library, and about a thousand new books have been acquired which are now being catalogued. Quite a number of responses to the offer of lending books to alumni indicate that this is a worthwhile branch of the Library's service. This is intended, for the most part, for the convenience of alumni in small towns where facilities for obtaining books are slight. A new postal regulation materially decreases the cost of sending books by parcel post.

Several scholars have utilized the Library during the Summer, particularly the manuscripts which the Library contains relating to the history of Central New York. Hamilton College Library, according to Mr. Joseph D. Ibbotson, College Librarian, is the proper depository for Central New York manuscript material, and the Library is justly famous in Albany, Washington, and New York circles for the material of this kind which it has.

The new browsing room, which it was hoped would be completed by the time college opened, is still in a very much unfinished form. The work of renovation and decoration has just recently begun, and it is improbable that the browsing room will be ready much before next year.

CLARKSON BOWS TO BUFF AND BLUE

yards, carrying two men over the goal line with him for Hamilton's second score. DeSormo's dropkick for goal was wide.

Clarkson Fails To Score

After attaining the 12-0 lead the Hamilton team let down a bit and Clarkson took advantage of the lull to make the few dangerous bids she put in during the afternoon. But determined rushes of the Green and Gold team never came within scoring distance and each period ended with the ball in midfield. Clarkson's play was featured by Boyle, fullback, and Elsie, center. The home team was considerably handicapped by minor injuries.

Hamilton's chief casualties were Fay, with a banged-up knee, Rodger with a cut over his eye, and Rienzo with a bruised arm. The latter were Hamilton's chief bulwarks on defense. The play of the team in general was slightly ragged but good enough at all times to confine the ball in Clarkson territory and keep the well-filled Clarkson stands on edge throughout.
